

Sharing Our World

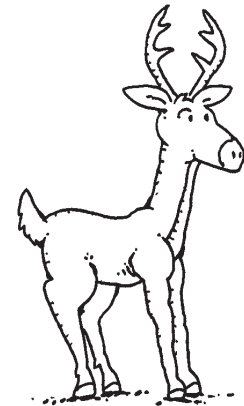

We share this planet with many kinds of animals. Some are very tiny. Others would have trouble fitting into your classroom! All animals are important to our world.

Write the first letter of each animal name in the blank next to the picture. The letters you wrote spell a word. Write that word in the sentence at the bottom.

Animals—it's their _____ too!

Sharing our world with wildlife means:

- not disturbing them
- learning to live peacefully together
- respecting their natural habitats
- not keeping wild animals as pets
- carefully and gently removing wild critters from our homes

Color and cut out one of the animals above. Paste it on another piece of paper. Where would that animal live? Draw a natural habitat around the animal.
